

DROUGHT BELT IS STRUCK BY NEW HARDSHIPS

Rain And Frost Have Stretched Across Northern Plains

Chicago, Sept. 16.—(P)—A new difficulty—too much rain—cropped up in the drought belt today.

"Incredible as it may seem," asserted C. D. Reed, government meteorologist at Des Moines, Iowa, "some localities already are complaining of too much rain. And rightly so."

Six weeks ago the Midwest was scorching and brown from intense heat and lack of moisture.

Subsequently, nature went to the other extreme in many years. Copious showers fell.

Today heavy to excessive precipitation was reported in the lower Mississippi and Upper Mississippi valleys and the Upper Great Lakes region. Abnormally cool weather and frost stretched across the northern plains.

The downpour here measured 2.16 inches. It raised the September total to 7.17 inches, compared with a 3.14 normal for the month, and reduced the 1936 deficiency to 3.16. Many basements were flooded. Pumps were manned on some low-lying streets where pools of water hindered street cars and automobile traffic.

Iowa's average rainfall for September was caused at slightly more than four inches to date, six percent more than normal for the entire month.

Light to heavy frost was reported general in North Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, the eastern sections of Washington and Oregon, northern Minnesota and northwestern Wisconsin. More was forecast for tonight in most northern districts. Little damage was observed.

Sheridan, Wyo., recorded a temperature of 28 degrees; Helena, Mont., 30; Williston, N. D., 32; Devils Lake, N. D., 34; Moorhead, Minn., 36.

Reed said the Iowa corn which escaped the summer's heat was making "a wonderful growth." "Average progress" of the crop was noted in northern Illinois.

Kansas showers transformed dry beds to streams. The Mississippi river, recently shrinking toward an all-time low mark, continued to swell. Heavy rains raised flood possibilities in central western Texas.

A plowing contest, scheduled for tomorrow at Wheatland, Ill., was indefinitely postponed. The reason: Too much mud.

Mary Astor Is Nearly Mobbed

Hollywood, Calif., Sept. 16.—(P)—Mary Astor, attending a preview of her first film since her sensational flight to regain her daughter, was nearly mobbed last night by cheering admirers.

As the Auburn-haired actress left a Hollywood theater after the last closeup, hundreds of fans milled about the exits, some calling out, "Great work, Mary."

She went at what she said was the "kindness" of the demonstration.

Miss Astor, who was awarded divided custody of her four-year-old daughter with her ex-husband, Dr. Franklyn Thorpe, several weeks ago, attended the showing of "Dodsworth" in which she plays the "other woman."

ARREST SUSPECT

Fairfield, Ill., Sept. 16.—(P)—Ed Lawler, 47 years old, arrested in Jackson, Miss., on an indictment charging him with participation in the torture slaying of Fremont Pearce at Cane, Ill., in 1932, was returned here today by Sheriff Ernest D. Burkett.

Ray Malcott, Granite City, and Charles Roy, Maison, are serving life terms on murder charges in connection with Pearce's death. A fourth man is still a fugitive.

Schnackenberg Raps Horner at Shelbyville

Declares State Taxes Are $90,000,000 Higher Than In 1929

Shelbyville, Ill., Sept. 16.—(P)—Elmer J. Schnackenberg, Republican legislator from Chicago, attacked the administration of Governor Horner in an address prepared for delivery tonight at a meeting called by the Shelby County Central Committee.

"The Horner administration realizes," Schnackenberg said, "its explanation of the abolition of the state property tax justified the sales tax has failed to satisfy the people of Illinois. The old property tax produced less than $25,000,000 a year—while the new taxes, sales, utility and liquor—bring in $83,000,000.

"A pamphlet, 'Comparing state taxes' has been gotten out to show that, among other things, Illinois is not really so bad in the matter of taxing its people.

"It says 'Kentucky taxes cigarettes' does not point out Gov. Horner taxes a loaf of bread; that Minnesota taxes corporation income, but not that Horner taxes a quart of milk.

"Exact figures for 1936 are not available; but a careful calculation places the total Illinois collections for this year at $147,000,000—exceeding by $90,000,000 the amount collected by the state in the boom year of 1929."

"The Horner administration will have to write more and better pamphlets before it can successfully camouflage the load of taxation it has placed on the people of Illinois."

Roosevelt Is Endorsed By Labor Group

Illinois Federation Passes Resolution to Support FDR For Re-election

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 16.—(P)—The Illinois State Federation of Labor today adopted a resolution calling on its membership to support President Roosevelt for re-election.

The resolution, adopted by acclaim, described the president as "the real proponent of the real purpose of the American constitution."

There was none of the expected debate on the proposal as delegates to the Federation's 54th annual convention awaited tomorrow's battle on the resolution endorsing John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, in his national labor split with William Green, head of the American Federation.

The Roosevelt resolution was a departure from a 54-year-old custom of the convention not to endorse a presidential candidate, but the preamble of the endorsement took recognition of this, explaining:

"However, no rule is infallible under all circumstances. An emergency may arise in which temporary departure therefrom is essential in the interests of all concerned.

"It is our opinion and judgment that such an emergency has arisen in connection with the present political campaign in relation to the office of the president of the United States."

A second section of the resolution, adopted separately, promising the Federation "will endeavor to be helpful" to all political unions of labor eliminated a predicted fight on the endorsement. Ray Edmundson, state president of the United Mine Workers of America, and state chairman of the Federation, were present.

Take Measures To End Strike

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 16.—(P)—Business men asked immediate action to-night of the Seattle Central Labor Council toward ending a newspaper strike on the Post-Intelligencer, the management of which announced "any plans for abandonment of the plant have been held in abeyance at the request of business interests."

The Labor Council, organized labor's governing body here, designated the Hearst-owned newspaper as "unfair" shortly after the American Newspaper Guild called a strike Aug. 13 in protest at discharge of two Guild members.

A hearing on the Guild's demand for reinstatement of the two employees continued today before the National Labor Relations Board, as associate publisher Charles B. Lindeman announced abeyance of any plans to abandon the newspaper plant.

WILL HOLD CLINIC

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 16.—(P)—Dr. Frank J. Jirka, state health director, today announced that a clinic for taking blood from persons who have recovered from infantile paralysis would be held next Tuesday morning at St. Francis hospital, Peoria. The clinic will be conducted by the state and Peoria health departments.

With infantile paralysis increasing, Dr. Jirka said blood from recovered persons is needed to replenish the supply of serum.

"A total of 90 cases of infantile paralysis have been reported already in September against only 60 during all of August," he said.

MAJOR PARTIES PREPARING FOR FINAL DRIVE

Inter-Party Strife In Four States Raises Complications

Washington, Sept. 16.—(P)—Nominations for the senate and house having been completed by yesterday's primaries except in Rhode Island, major party managers began making ready today for the final and decisive stretch of the presidential campaign.

Integration of their state and national efforts presented a far from simple problem in some instances. Intra-party strife over senate candidacies in such states as Michigan, Massachusetts, West Virginia and Nebraska, and some struggles for gubernatorial nomination have raised complications.

Recognition of a new situation was evident in reports of fresh planning for the weeks between now and November 3. Intent upon capitalizing on the Republican victory in Maine, Chairman John Hamilton and Representative Joseph W. Martin, the senatorial election manager, arranged a conference with leaders of the eastern seaboard states in New York tomorrow.

Senator Joseph F. Guffey of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, concerned himself first with the majority credited to Senator Wallace White over Governor Louis J. Brann in the Maine senatorial election. A recount will be demanded, he said, on the ground of violation of the election laws. Brann placed himself at the disposal of Chairman James A. Farley for Roosevelt speakmaking.

The activity indicated the five primaries on Tuesday, on top of the Maine elections the previous day, were considered a turning point in the final battle between the Roosevelt and Landon forces. The president stood on his hint that his campaign trips might be comparatively few and brief. Governor Landon made ready in Toledo to meet with young Republicans later in the week and to declare his farm views more fully in Des Moines next week.

Court Officials, Juror, 2 Women Held In Contempt

Federal Judge Earl Majors Issues Citations At Peoria

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 16.—(P)—A deputy marshal, a bailiff, a juror and two women were named in contempt of court citations issued by Federal Judge Earl Majors today after defense counsel charged jurors in the Wainer liquor conspiracy trial had indulged in hotel room parties.

Named in the citations, returnable Sept. 28, were Deputy Marshal A. T. Curry and Bailiff E. T. Young of Springfield, and Henry Triebel, a juror, and Bee Lane and Patsey O'Brien of Peoria.

The juror ordered them brought before him for "conduct calculated to bring disrepute upon this court."

In an unsuccessful move for a new trial defense attorneys argued conduct of the five persons made a fair verdict impossible. They introduced affidavits charging the bailiff had permitted jurors to dine with their wives during the trial last July, that the marshal had mentioned the defendants' "evidence of guilt" within the jurors' hearing, and that empty whisky bottles had been found in the hotel rooms occupied by the jurors during the trial. Affidavits of the two women, offered to support the party charges, were not admitted to evidence.

Judge Majors overruled motions for a new trial imposed prison sentences and fines on the 11 defendants. Defense counsel served immediate notice of an appeal and prepared to post bond ranging from $3,500 for the minor defendants to $12,000 for the major figures in the case.

Sentenced to two years imprisonment and fined $10,000 each were David, Allen and Major Wainer and Sam Berg and Ben Adelman, all of Galesburg.

Sentenced to a year and a day in prison and fined $500 each were Irving Schulman, Julius Michelson and George Cebulo, all of Galesburg; and Al Offerman, John Swayne and Oral Fleming of Burlington, Ia.

JUNIOR BAND OF LOCAL SCHOOLS TO HOLD PRACTICE TODAY

The first practice of the Jacksonville Public Schools' junior band will be held this morning at 8 o'clock in the old Josephine Milligan school north of the David Prince building. The band is composed of students from about the fifth grade on up through high school. Most of the members of the organization are either just starting to play an instrument or have had very little experience playing in a band. There are some members of last year's junior band, however, who will play with the group for a time.

The band is directed by Donn Watson, who is also in charge of the high school senior band.

1937 Illinois Auto Plates To Be Yellow, Black

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 16.—(P)—Canary yellow and black will be color scheme for Illinois motor vehicle license plates next year, Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes announced today.

"The contract" for manufacturing 1937 plates was awarded to the Chicago Furnace Fitting company, Hughes said the contract calls for approximately 1,500,000 passenger car plates and 225,000 truck, motorcycle and trailer plates which will cost state $9757 cents each pair.

Numerals on the plates will be black while the background will be canary yellow, he said, with "19-11111-37" appearing above numerals instead of below. Production of new plates to begin immediately, he added.

Hurricane Moves Toward Carolina

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 16.—(P)—A dangerous tropical hurricane moved through the Atlantic ocean tonight in the general direction of Cape Hatteras, North Carolina.

Warning small craft on the coast north of Jacksonville to remain in port, the weather bureau said "interests on the North Carolina coast should stand by for advices tomorrow morning."

Gordan E. Dunn, weather meteorologist, declared the chances were about even for the huge disturbance to turn northward and avoid land.

A high pressure bank over North Carolina, the middle Atlantic states and the northern Atlantic ocean weakened slightly during the day. Dunn said, giving the storm a better opportunity to turn northward and eastward in the direction usually taken by tropical disturbances in the Atlantic.

Glenn Speaks At Mattoon

Mattoon, Ill., Sept. 16.—(P)—Otis F. Glenn, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, attacked administration farm policies in an address prepared for delivery here tonight.

"When the New Dealers drafted the AAA they completely forgot the weather," he said. "They estimated the crops of a year of surplus production and decided something had to be done about it. So they went to work busily killing little pigs and plowing under cotton, corn and wheat.

"As a consequence, more than a billion dollars worth of farm products were bought in foreign markets. The Republican party proposes to adjust this situation by a tariff equivalent when the market is unable to absorb the surpluses at a fair exchange price."

LAWYER INDICTED

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 16.—(P)—Ralph Dunn, 33, a former attorney, was indicted by the McLean county grand jury today on three counts charging forgery, and one for drawing a check with intent to defraud.

Dunn was arrested in Chicago July 26 after, according to charges, he had obtained $1,000 on allegedly forged checks at three Chicago banks.

Accessory charges filed against his wife were dismissed earlier when evidence showed she was not acquainted with her husband's actions.

Dr. C. E. Waters of the Murrayville community was among those transacting business in the city yesterday.

GOVERNMENT MAY BLAST FORTRESS

1700 Spanish Women, Men And Children In Danger

Toledo, Spain, Sept. 16.—Tons of TNT, it was reliably learned tonight, at any moment may blow to bits the 1,700 men, women and children in the besieged fortress the Alcázar.

Government plans to blast the ancient stone fortress are virtually complete, it was reported, with two TNT-laden mines—each more than 100 yards long—laid under the building.

Informed sources said the government had reached its "terrible decision" after ten days of efforts to get the women and children out of the fortress had failed.

Mercy was not considered for the male defenders.

The fascist commander of the occupants of the fortress, Jose Moscardo, has refused to release the women and children, government sources said.

Should the explosives not kill every single defender of the fortress, government troops and artillery have orders to do the job.

A train of regular army soldiers arrived from Madrid to reinforce their attackers of the garrison. They are to charge the fortress after the explosions have rent the massive stone walls.

Government batteries which have shelled the fortress almost incessantly for over two months, were in readiness to blast out any resistance that might survive the explosions.

Truckloads of grenades and ammunition for rifles and machine guns were brought into the city within the last few days.

The government leaders issued orders to the troops to respect the lives of women and children in the fortress—provided any might be alive in the ruins of the dynamited citadel.

Government engineers who have been laying the mines for nearly two weeks believed the blast would shake Toledo, but would not endanger other buildings.

All buildings, however, within a two-mile radius of the fortress were evacuated.

Giving the government's justification for the contemplated action, the official newspaper Claridad said "our sentimental weakness put a premium on the enemy's duplicity."

William T. Harmon Suffers Relapse

Condition of Former College Athletics Director Is Serious

Attorney Robert E. Harmon, received word yesterday morning that his brother William T. Harmon had suffered a relapse and that his condition is again serious.

Mr. Harmon who is managing officer at the St. Charles School for Boys at St. Charles, Ill., has been suffering with lobar pneumonia, having contracted a severe cold while attending the All-Star football game in Chicago recently.

Attorney Harmon was called to St. Charles last week but when the crisis was passed he returned home.

At 5 o'clock Wednesday evening, Attorney Harmon talked by telephone with members of the family at St. Charles and learned that his brother's condition was slightly improved.

Dr. M. R. Berghoff, a Chicago specialist, and two of Mr. Harmon's sisters, who are nurses at Mercy hospital in Chicago, were at his bedside last evening.

William T. Harmon was formerly director of athletics at Illinois college and is commissioner of the Little Nineteen conference.

Democrat Vets Hold Round-Up

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 16.—(P)—With unfavorable weather and without the two advertised speakers, Democratic war veterans today held their annual round-up and barbecue at the state fairgrounds as part of the fall campaign.

Governor Horner went to Chicago for a prison conference speech and could not return in time to address the veterans. Senator Lewis, also listed as a speaker, was unable to return from Washington.

Replacing them on the program were Michael L. Igoe of Chicago, federal district attorney; Congressman Scott W. Lucas of Havana and Treasurer John Stelle, candidate for Lieutenant governor. John Wakeman of Litchfield was chairman of the meeting, held in the coliseum.

Mr. Thompson, who is a former employee of the Journal-Courier company, is a son of County Judge William E. Thompson of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Surratt were callers in Jacksonville yesterday from the Chapin community.

Modern Woodmen Injunction Has Been Dismissed

Judge Briggles Says It Is Not Court's Duty To In- terfere

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 16.—(P)—Federal District Judge Charles G. Briggles today granted the request of officials of the Modern Woodmen of America that the injunction suit requesting appointment of a receiver be thrown out of court.

The case was dismissed, without prejudice to the three St. Louis plaintiffs, after Ernest Palmer, state director of insurance, had been quoted as believing the fraternal organization is "actually solvent."

John M. Wheeler, attorney from Tulsa, Okla., had contended Modern Woodmen officials had misappropriated funds and were violating the state law by conducting an "old line" insurance business.

Judge Briggles said he was "inclined to think that it is not the court's duty to interfere" while a convention examination of the fraternal organization's books is under way at the Rock Island, Ill., headquarters.

Doubtful about his jurisdiction over a request for an accounting of the company's business, the judge expressed the opinion that the injunction suit might be reinstated later in different form.

State Witnesses In Black Legion Case Disappear

All Had Admitted They Were Members of Hooded Night Riders

Detroit, Sept. 16.—(P)—The disappearance of three state's witnesses added mystery today to the trial of 12 men, alleged to be Black Legion members, on charges of murdering Charles A. Poole.

As the trial proceeded, police searched for the trio, Luther Glasow, Elmer Anderson and Emerson Becker—all admitted members of the hooded night riders—who have been missing for two weeks.

Dayton Dean, confessed "triggerman" in the Poole shooting, and the victim's widow, Mrs. Rebecca Poole, were not called to testify today as planned. After repeated delays, the witnesses missing the prosecution introduced more testimony of a stenographer and policeman who took statements from defendants.

Detective Jack Harvill told the Circuit Court jury the disappearance of the witnesses was kept secret in hope it might help the search.

"The men have been missing for some time and all efforts to locate them have failed," Harvill said.

He reported no evidence that the trio met with foul play, but said they apparently were absenting themselves in fear of reprisals from the Black Legion if they testified.

Police said Anderson and Becker were present at a meeting on May 12 at which the killing of Poole was plotted, but they were in a group which did not arrive at the shooting rendezvous on a side road later that night.

Chicago Boy Has Early Christmas

Chicago, Sept. 16.—(P)—It was just like Christmas for a three year old unnamed, blond, blue-eyed boy in suburban Cicero today, except daddy and mother weren't there.

Policemen, village employees and many others heaped gifts upon the boy's lap. Offers to take the child and keep him came thick and fast.

Instead, the boy was placed in the custody of police while a search was started for a woman in brown who yesterday Green told the child through the barber shop door of Joe Bendinelli and disappeared in a waiting automobile.

CARS ARE DAMAGED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Fenders, head lights and other parts of automobiles were damaged in three accidents here Wednesday.

The second accident occurred in the two hundred block on South Main street between cars owned by Mrs. Paul Green, 604 Hardin, and Miss Elizabeth Smith of New Berlin. The third accident occurred when the car driven by Jack Bibe of this city collided with an automobile owned by W. A. Masters, 604 South Main street. ### POSTPONE FLOW MEET

Wheatland, Ill., Sept. 16.—(P)—Indefinite postponement of the Wheatland plowing match, originally scheduled for last Saturday and finally advanced until tomorrow, was announced today.

Join The Legion

Jacksonville Post No. 279 of the American Legion is preparing to hold an annual membership drive, which should not be necessary. Every veteran eligible for membership should walk in voluntarily and join up for another year, without having to be asked, urged or invited.

It is difficult to visualize a world war veteran who is not a member of the Legion. It would have been equally hard to picture a veteran of the civil war who was not affiliated with the Grand Army of the Republic. Those venerable defenders of the union were proud of G. A. R. membership; very few of them in later years had to be asked to renew membership. They considered it an almost sacred duty.

The Legionnaires, also, are coming to realize more fully the importance of keeping the principles of their organization constantly in the front. Membership campaigns should become merely a matter of form. Committees should not have to beat the bushes for members, or use persuasion to fill up the ranks. The American Legion is too big, too broad, too great an institution, to spend much time soliciting members. The members should go to it.

As the Jacksonville campaign opens, it is hoped that it will be brief and highly effective.

Bob Zuppke Smiles

Reports from the University of Illinois are to effect that Coach Bob Zuppke smiled the other day as he watched a Sophomore half-back do his stuff in scrimmage. As the old "Fox of the Illini" has never been in the habit of gushing over new talent, or wearing a grin of confidence before the grid seasons get under way, football fans of the state will be led to believe that he actually saw something. Did that smile mean that the Orange and Blue mentor is going to have an unusual team this fall?

Illinoisans have come to accept Zuppke as something of a wizard. For many years he has been turning out great teams from an assorted lot of material. Some years the Illini team reaches greater heights than others, but in good years and off seasons, fans of this state await the approach of the season with confidence that Zuppke will produce a team of which they will not be ashamed. The Illini coach holds an enviable position, as there has never been a clamor so intense that he has been driven from his job, even when the going was tough, and suggestions were heard that a new man might meet with better success.

Illini football fans would like to believe that Zuppke's pre-season smile was significant. They will have only to wait another few weeks to see.

Courage or Curiosity?

There was a bad airplane accident at Pittsburg, Pa. the other day; a trimotored plane carrying sightseers over Allegheny country crashed and burned, with a loss of nine lives. Offhand, it would be supposed that the multiple tragedy would have put a definite crimp in the aerial sightseeing business around Pittsburg for a few days. It did just the reverse.

Over the week-end immediately following the crash, airplanes carrying passengers in that vicinity did a land office trade, with business double what it had been before the crash. Many of the sightseers urged their pilots to fly over the scene of the wreck.

Probably all of those spectators were saying to themselves: "It can't happen to me." But there are several ways to figure it out. There is a morbid streak in human nature, and people apparently are becoming harder to scare. They are willing to isolate the chances of tragedy from their own lives to gratify curiosity and the love for thrills.

Figured It Out

The owner of a sound truck at East St. Louis could qualify as a first-rate detective. When 6,000 Landon-Knox sunflower buttons disappeared from the supply section of his vehicle the other night, he engaged in a line of reasoning, evolved a theory and reached a conclusion that would have done justice to a full-fledged sleuth.

Asked if he had any idea as to who might have done the trick, the truck owner replied:

"The only way is to wait a few days and see if lots more people around here begin to wear them. If so, we'll know the Republicans got them. If not, then it was someone else."

Both Sides of the Campaign

Official views of the Republican and Democratic National Committees on leading issues of the campaign are presented by leaders of the two parties in this series of 12 articles, taking the place of Rodney Dutcher's Washington column during Dutcher's vacation. The Republican and Democratic arguments are presented on alternate days.

Republican Head Assails New Deal for 'Fumbling With Recovery' and Hails Landon Election

By JOHN HAMILTON
Chairman Republican National Committee

The time has come to stop this fumbling with recovery!

The words are those of Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas, Republican candidate for the presidency. They were part of his speech accepting the nomination of his party. No more powerful phrase was uttered in any political campaign. No better reason was ever given why the American people should, at once, terminate the New Deal, and elect Governor Landon president of the United States.

The Kansas governor has a reputation for knowing how to work a reputation for being far too intelligent to be fooled, and far too courageous to be frightened.

Recovery is what the New Dealers have been trying vainly to bring about during the last three and a half tortuous years. Their many sins have been committed in "recovery's" name. But they have fumbled from one failure to another, never quite succeeding in grasping firmly either recovery or the fundamentals of American democracy. That is the issue in all its clarity.

President Roosevelt's and the New Deal's policies have fostered monopoly, threatened the nation's credit, driven needed capital from the field of industrial enterprise, increased unemployment and undermined confidence in representative government.

Facts Tell the Story
Lucid understanding by the voters of the facts of New Deal mismanagement will go far toward electing Governor Landon to the presidency than any political argument, no matter how carefully marshaled. Facts on which the New Deal's record is built are not disputable; neither can they be answered by wisecracking, at which so many New Deal apostles excel. Wrapped in the complete belief of their own omnipotence, it has been the position of the New Dealers that there was no righteousness on earth until they took command. Under such illusions President Roosevelt not only scuttled a party platform, but broke promise after promise, much like a child who leaves her broken dishes, forgotten, to get new ones which will shortly suffer a similar fate.

The New Deal today stands indicted before the bar of public opinion because it brought rearmament instead of recovery, extravagance instead of economy, burdensome taxation instead of greater personal security, propaganda instead of truth; because it subjected human misery and starvation to political machinations, substituted partisan and selfish politics for statesmanship, and brushed aside constitutional rights in the greatest invasion of personal privacy the nation has ever known.

Wastefulness Charged
It has been a spendthrift government and wasteful to an extreme, spending twice as much as it has taken in. It has spent more than did the administrations of the first 24 presidents of the United States in 122 years of office. It has passed 14 new laws involving taxation and doubled the tax bill of the country. The New Dealers have received from a Roosevelt dominated Congress blank checks totaling $13,500,000,000, forcing deficit upon deficit and the national debt to an all time high. The unfinished Passamaquoddy power project, upon which millions were spent to capture Maine voters, is a prime example of New Deal waste.

Meanwhile a starving and depression-torn people who had every right to expect aid from their government, found that it was necessary to adopt New Dealism as a political faith to get a New Deal relief job at even a pittance wage. Voters were forced to change their registrations, and those who did not found themselves back on the dole.

Played for Propaganda
New Dealers used relief money to create a huge propaganda machine which hired more than 6000 experienced propagandists and was not exceeded even by the World War setup. The World War machine was used to build patriotic fervor. The Farley machine is used to build favorable New Deal sentiment, and perpetuate the New Dealers in office at the expense of the taxpayer. Hand in hand with the propagandists goes the huge spy ring of hired snipers, hired by the New Deal, which has ruthlessly pulled aside the curtain of privacy assured citizens by their Constitution. In three years the New Deal has doubled taxes paid by the consumer. Before President Roosevelt took office, consumers' taxes contributed only 30 per cent to the cost of government. Today, by the president's own admission, the consumer is paying 60 per cent. A $1500-a-year man pays $200 in hidden taxes.

The New Dealers promised to aid the American farmer, but they could not sign Mother Nature on the dotted line. Their program of planned scar-

Little Chance Belt Line Can Be Built Here Within a Year

Delegation Talks with State Highway Chief, Who Says Funds Not Available

Jacksonville need not look forward to the building of a belt line next year to relieve traffic on some of its residential streets, Ernst Lieberman, superintendent of the state highway department, told a delegation of citizens and officials at Springfield Tuesday. While recognizing the need for such a cut-off, Mr. Lieberman said that no money is available for the project at this time, with little indication that the work could be started next year.

Members of the delegation who went to the state highway offices for the conference reported that Lieberman said he would take the project under advisement, promising action whenever funds are available. As already surveyed, the belt line would begin at South Main street and Morton avenue, proceeding west to the city limits and cutting cross-country to U. S. Route 36. Another spur to the north would carry traffic into Route 104, eliminating much heavy through traffic from South Main street, West College avenue, and other streets.

John Green and H. W. Morton, residents of Webster avenue, advocated during the conference with the state highway superintendent the routing of the belt line north on Webster avenue. They said they have signatures of a number of property owners who want a belt line routed that way. The delegation calling at Lieberman's office included Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Claus, Mrs. Lillian Danskin, Miss Alice Mathis, Alderman George Brown, Mayor Fletcher Blackburn, City Clerk John Phillips, C. J. Wright, City Engineer Kenneth Stapleton, County Highway Superintendent William J. Casler, John Green, H. W. Morton, and County Commissioners William Rees and Clifton Davis.

city, plus the drought, means that America is importing millions of dollars worth of foodstuffs to take the place of that destroyed.

Such a record does not deserve the renewed confidence of the voters.

Some Antiseptics Valuable for First Aid; Others Not Approved

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

One of the most significant developments in modern medical advertising is the widespread promotion and use of antiseptics in personal hygiene.

There are many antiseptics now available for use on the skin, in mouth, nose, eyes and the various cavities of the body; also antiseptics for use in first aid and for overcoming local infections.

The most widely known antiseptics for use on the skin are tincture of iodine and 2 per cent mercurchrome solution.

The Council on Pharmacy and Chemistry of the American Medical Association recognizes the importance of antiseptics for first aid to the public. Tincture of iodine and mercurchrome are included in the preparations that may be so advertised.

This council, which includes some 17 authorities in various departments of medicine, has not approved such widely advertised antiseptics as are commonly recommended for throat infections and for prevention of various types of infectious diseases, including colds.

There is no scientific evidence that any of the preparations which may be used in gargles or sprays, or in any other similar manner, will prevent the onset of the common cold.

Neither is there any evidence that any of these antiseptic solutions is of real value when used as a gargle to destroy germs in mouth and throat. Chief value of such use is to wash the infectious material out of the mouth, and this can be accomplished just as well with a weak solution of salt water.

Many people, however, prefer the clean taste that is associated with the use of an antiseptic mouth wash, and others seem to get a good deal of confidence out of having such antiseptic materials available.

Among the materials most widely used as mouth washes and gargles, as well as sprays, are the antiseptic solutions which are included in a book called the "National Formulary," a volume known by druggists to include many other preparations besides those listed in the United States Pharmacopoeia.

The formulary includes both acid and alkaline antiseptic solutions similar to some of the solutions most widely advertised. There are also mixtures containing bicarbonate of soda which are considered cleansing when there is mucus present.

Most druggists prepare their own antiseptic solutions, which can be bought at prices lower than some of the widely promoted preparations.

In the choice of a mouth wash or lotion, the average person will do fairly well if he can find one which tastes and feels right without worrying very much about the antiseptic efficiency.

One of the best old-fashioned antiseptic solutions for use in the home is boric acid. Most people prefer to have package of crystals of boric acid, or boric acid powder, and to make up a solution just before they use it.

A recent development is the chlorinated soda mixture which, during the World War, was called Dakin's solution. There are now a variety of antiseptic solutions depending on chlorine as the chief antiseptic ingredient.

Among the most efficient of the antiseptics are those depending on mercury and phenol or carbolic acid. The phenol antiseptics have the distinct smell of carbolic acid or creosol.

All the mercury antiseptics are dangerous poisons and, if they are kept in the home, they should be guarded carefully. Every bottle containing such preparations should be marked "Poison."

Then there is alcohol. Fifty per cent alcohol is a good antiseptic solution and serves all the purposes of other antiseptics. However, plenty of soap and water is equally valuable and soaps, such as the tincture of green soap, serve also as antiseptics in the absence of other more pleasant mixtures and combinations.

Finally, hydrogen peroxide solution should be mentioned as a fairly safe antiseptic substance. When diluted one-half with water, this makes a good cleansing solution for wounds. And when you must have a gargle, one part of hydrogen peroxide to three of water can be used for this purpose.

$100 FINE STAYED IN DISORDERLY CASE

A fine of $100 and costs was assessed on Aaron Gibson of Missouri when he entered a plea of guilty in Justice C. S. Smith's court to a charge of disorderly conduct. Payment of the fine was stayed, with the defendant paying the costs.

Gibson was arrested by state patrolmen east of Jacksonville, after he is said to have had an argument with his wife, who got out of their car and sought assistance. There was a reconciliation, however, when the two met in the justice court.

The defendant was given to understand that any breach of conduct with in the next year would make him liable for the payment of the fine.

Miss Artholony was thrown from the car, but was not seriously injured, receiving bruises about the face and head, and an injury to her knee. She was carried to her home across the street, where she was given medical attention by Dr. A. R. Lyles. # Cardinals Split With Phillies While Cubs Capture Twin Bill

Red Birds Drop Opener To Phils 7 To 4 But Capture Nightcap By Score Of 5-2

Philadelphia, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The Cardinals executed a triple play while losing the opener today to the Phillies, 7 to 4, but came back with a belated hitting parade in the nightcap to halve the twin bill, 5 to 2.

The triple killing came in the second inning and nipped a Phils' uprising. Camilli walked and went to second on Arnovich's single. Grace, in attempting to sacrifice, lined to Haines, who doubled Arnovich at first base.

Mize rifled the ball to Durocher at second, catching Camilli off the sack for the third out.

Brilliant pitching by Bucky Walter combined with a 12-hit attack on Haines, Ryba, Earnshaw and V. Davis, who doubled Arnovich at first base, to win the game for the Cardinals.

Neither Passeau nor Johnson, starting hurlers, went the route. The Gas House Gang drove Passeau to the showers in the eighth, while Johnson was removed for a pinch hitter in the same inning. Dizzy Dean finished for the Cards, but did not receive credit for the victory.

Frequent clashes between players and umpires marked the games, and Frankie Frisch, Durocher and Medwick were banished. The Cardinals' manager was dispatched to the dug-out by Umpire Bill Klem for protesting too vigorously when the arbiter called Garibaldi out on a third strike in the third inning of the first game.

Durocher followed, this time at the direction of Umpire Stewart after the Cardinals howled in protest that Camilli had interfered with Mize rounding first base in the fourth inning of the same battle.

Ducky Medwick was chased in the third inning of the nightcap by Umpire Stewart after he was called out on strikes.

The Phillies came back from the triple play in the opener by scoring

22 Boys Report For Freshman Grid II

Van Meter and Munger Take Charge of Yearlings in First Drill

Twenty-two freshmen reported for Illinois College's first freshman football team under the new freshman rule yesterday afternoon as practice slowed down on the varsity squad. Athletic Director LaRue Van Meter and Willis Munger taking charge of the yearlings. Varsity practice was confined to fundamentals because of registration day for upper classmen, a large number of the boys taking more than the allotted time to complete their arrangements.

Lacking much in the way of size, the yearlings indicated that they might be able to put together a fast team. Practice during the afternoon was confined to teaching the college style of line play, and to conditioning work.

Freshmen were equipped with new pants, shoulder pads, new shoes, and new socks, but had to dig up their own shirts when an order of practice jerseys in time to issue them. Available practice jerseys were issued until the supply became exhausted, and the other boys appeared in the best top-covering they could secure.

Willis Munger is Appointed to Coach At Illinois College

All-Star Guard to Assist Nuss-pickel This Year; Coach Freshmen

Willis Munger, who was elected to the squad of All-Americans who played the Detroit Lions in Soldiers field, Chicago, this year, yesterday was named assistant football coach at Illinois College by President H. C. Jaquith. Munger has been on the job several days, but arrangements have just been completed leading to the official appointment.

Munger, who comes from Beardstown, where he starred for several years on the football and basketball teams of that city, played four years of college football, and for the last two years was given all-conference honors by both the Associated Press and the United Press. These two organizations make their selections by taking a poll of the coaches and sports writers.

Munger's duties will be to assist Coach Ray Nusspickel in developing this year's varsity team, and probably will include coaching the freshman football team. Freshmen are expected to be called out for practice within a few days.

The all-star player will complete his work for a bachelor's degree here this year. His appointment covers the football season.

Roodhouse. — Roodhouse, annually the team to watch in the Illinois Valley conference, will not be any exception to the rule this year, from all appearances.

Coach Mason Campbell has back six lettermen out of 18 who won monograms last year, and 21 boys out who were out for last year's team. Added to those 27 players, there are 23 more freshmen who have reported for the first time, which means that practically all of the boys in Roodhouse who are able to find time after school to get out to the football field, are wearing monograms.

The Roodhouse coach, who is gaining a reputation for putting all the facts in a few words, believes his line will average about 160 pounds, lighter than last year, and his backfield will average about 150 pounds. Four of the six lettermen back this year are linemen.

But if you would ask any coach in the Illinois Valley, they'll let the Roodhouse coach keep his veteran linemen if he will give up his two veteran backs, and they do not speak disparagingly of the linemen when they saw it.

Those two backs are "Jumping Jack" Alred, a 140 pound scouter who flies through the air like the man on the trapeze, and Phenix, a fullback, who doesn't care how big a boy is in front of him, because he'll crack any and all of them by driving his 160 pounds of weight, and almost unlimited power right at them. Alred, essentially a sidestepper, twister, and sky-rocket speedster, and Phenix, a hard-driving fullback, are almost opposite in their methods of advancing the ball, a fact which means that Campbell has both of the styles which gain over the ground, available.

Roodhouse hasn't had to worry much about a kicking and passing arrangement, but Alred can do both. Phenix likewise can kick.

H. Worcester, center, who weighs 200 pounds, makes up a bulk of the weight in the line, and usually is able to do enough work for a man and a half. K. Ballard, an 175 pound end, C. Sittion, 150 pound tackle, and L. Ballard, 150 pound guard, are veterans in their positions.

Coach Campbell is coming over the 21 boys who were on last year's squad to find players to fill the ranks and he has a job on his hands. A number of the boys who were too small last year have come up in size and weight and are tussling with everybody for a place on the team.

Among the second year men are B. Locker, J. Selvers, B. Roodhouse, A. Carmon, R. Prather, B. Battershell, G. Petrey, H. McConathy, B. Fraley, C. Mueller, Pendergast, R. McConathy, B. Allen, F. Welch, H. Wimberley, R. Thompson, J. Shaw, D. Gibbons, C. Jackson, L. Hoots and B. Donovan.

Freshman out for the first time include W. Steelman, C. Steelman, R. Brenner, R. Hardy, R. Boston, B. Pender, L. Andrews, B. Kreps, J. McVeigh, D. Barton, D. Mueller, J. Heid, H. Garner, E. Beauchamp, D. Sittion, K. Stone, W. Scott, W. Tatman, E. Mitchell, B. Wahl, B. Sorrells, C. Haylin and H. Lewis.

The Railroaders are the defending champions of the Illinois Valley conference. They open their season with Feishans, in Springfield, Sept. 26. The remainder of their schedule is as follows:

Oct. 3—Pleasant Hill here.

Oct. 10—At Pittsfield.

Oct. 17—Winchester here.

Oct. 24—Carrollton here.

Oct. 30—At Greenfield.

Nov. 7—Open.

Giants Divide With Pirates

New York, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The Giants drew a step nearer the National League flag today, although getting only an even break in a double-header marking their season finale against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Three hits and a walk in the fourth inning accounted for all the Giants' runs as they pulled out a 2 to 1 decision in the opener. Old Waite Hoyt had too much stuff for them in the nightcap and the Pirates won another pitching duel, 4 to 3.

Since the second place Cardinals also split their two starts in Philadelphia today, the even break left the Giants 4 1/2 games in front, with only 11 to play.

Lefty Al Smith had little trouble stopping the Bucs in the first game, although Paul Waner sent them off in front with a homer in the opening inning. The Giants got to Cy Blanton in the fourth, when Travis Jackson and Gus Mancuso singled in succession and Joe Moore's single brought them both in.

In the ninth, Smith got into hot water, with runners on first and third and only one out. But Dick Coffman was rushed in to relieve him and fanned pinch hitters Red Lucas and Earle Browne to wind it up.

The second game was an even tighter pitching duel between Hoyt and Hal Schumacher, although the Pirates' elbow was wobbly at the start and the Giants got to him for two runs in the first frame on Moore's double. Floyd Young's error and Terry's single. The only other Giant run came in the sixth when Terry lined his second homer of the year into the left field stands.

The Pirates did all their scoring early, getting one in the second on Arky Vaughan's single, Burgess Whitehead's error and Young's grounder, and then blasting Schumacher for three more in the third on singles by Lloyd Waner, Vaughan and Gus Suhr. A walk, Travis Jackson's error and Young's liner.

Bruins Capture Nightcap 4 To 2 After Snatching Opener From Bees 3 To 2

Boston, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs observed their last meeting of the season with the Boston Bees by taking a doubleheader, 3 to 2 and 4 to 2, today.

The Cubs took 16 of the 22 games they played this season with the Bees. Six went to the Bees.

Tex Carleton, who had hung up his eighth victory of the season against the Bees, also celebrated his 19th victory over the Boston club in 21 games he has pitched against them as a member of the St. Louis and Chicago clubs.

The Cubs scored all their runs in the fourth inning in the first game on singles by Herman and Denaree bases on balls to O'Dea and Gill and Jurgess' long flyout.

Bill Lee held the Bees to five hits, all singles in the second game, while the Cubs hit Bobby Smith hard.

The Cubs sewed up the game in the opening inning by making three runs on a walk to Galan, singles by Herman and Hack, a double by Hartnett with outfield errors by H. Lee and Berger.

Herman had a perfect record at bat in the second game with four hits.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. ## California Woman Injured Near City

Tourist Taken to Hospital After Accident; Suffers Bad Cut Over Eye

Mrs. Anna Nuckolls, 551 Forty-third street, San Francisco, Calif., was injured shortly before noon yesterday when the automobile in which she was riding left the pavement about 2 miles east of Jacksonville, and crashed into a fence. Her brother, R. W. Banks, and Mrs. Banks, were not injured.

They were going to Old Salem, near Petersburg, before continuing on their trip to California.

The victim was taken to Passavant hospital, where she was placed under care of Dr. Carl E. Black. She is suffering from a deep cut over her right eye, and other injuries.

Mrs. Banks was driving at the time of the accident. She said another machine attempted to pass and her car was crowded from the pavement.

The full extent of Mrs. Nuckolls' injuries had not been determined yesterday afternoon, awaiting x-ray examination.

For Safety's sake PAVE THE GAPS WITH Concrete

Why do state highway departments warn the public: "Concrete pavement ends"? Because it is universally accepted that speeds which are reasonable and safe on concrete become dangerous on other surfaces.

To save lives, to prevent accidents . . . demand concrete all the way.

True and even, it has no high crown—is usable to its full width. Brakes are at their best on its gritty non-skid surface. Its light gray color and sharply defined edges give high visibility at night. Any car is a better car on concrete.

And concrete saves money for motorists and for taxpayers. Insist on concrete for your roads.

Apple Picking Gets Underway in Jersey, Calhoun Counties

Jonathans on Move Now;
Fair Crop Reported from
Some Orchards

Jerseyville—Apple picking is underway in Jersey and Calhoun county

Orchards and truck loads of the fruit are moving nightly from local packing sheds to the St. Louis and Chicago markets.

Jonathans are on the move at the present time, and the crop is a varied one, some orchards reporting a fair crop with fair quality and others reporting practically no crop. Drought conditions in Calhoun and Jersey this season reduced the general quality of nearly all varieties.

Crimes will be next and then the Delicious will go into the baskets. Willow Twigs will be the last to feel the fingers of the pickers. A good crop of this variety is reported in many orchards. In Jersey county the Ringhausen orchards report a good crop of Willow Twigs with good quality.

The present season thus far has found a ready market even for cull products.

There will be no demand for surplus labor in handling this season's crop. Last year a large number of transients were employed by Jersey and Calhoun orchards in picking the record breaking crop of the season.

Announce Institute

Charles H. Daniels, Jersey county superintendent of schools has announced that the annual Fall Institute for the teachers of the county will be held at the Jersey Township High school in Jerseyville on Thursday and Friday, October 1st and 2nd.

The program for the two day session has not yet been announced but it is understood a most instructive one is being planned.

Issues License

County Clerk Frank Seago issued a marriage license Saturday, September 12th Albert Krueger, aged 25 years, and Miss Freda Hamilton, aged 20 years, both of Fieldon.

The couple was married by Rev. Leonard Todd, pastor of the Evangelical church in Fieldon.

Release 16 Pheasants

A flock of sixteen young pheasants was released Monday afternoon on the farm of Charles Hembrow, eight miles northeast of Jerseyville, by Frank Skelton, superintendent of Piase Erosion Camp and Antone Sagovetz, director of wild life propagation and conservation.

The two were accompanied by Floyd A. Johnson of the game restoration department of Western Cartridge company of East Alton and Dennis Hart, superintendent of the company's game farm in Madison county.

The pheasants released were furnished by the cartridge company from the surplus raised at their game farm this season. The birds are the first of the species to be released in the Hembrow locality.

Western Cartridge company has established a game preserve west of Jerseyville covering more than one thousand acres in which the company will conduct a quail project.

OLD LANDMARK WILL BE WRECKED

ACADEMY HALL, ILLINOIS COLLEGE

Century-old Academy Hall To Be Wrecked H.C. Jaquith Announces

The century-old Academy Hall building, formerly known as the Jacksonville Female Academy, will be razed within a short time, President H. C. Jaquith of Illinois College announced Wednesday. Decision of the board of trustees of the college to abandon the historic old three-story structure, and cause its removal, was reached only a short time ago.

Home of the first women's college west of the Alleghenies, Academy hall is one of Jacksonville's oldest landmarks. The building stands on grounds covering an entire block, bounded by College avenue, Fayette, Church, and Morgan streets.

In recent years the building has deteriorated rapidly, owing to its advanced age. Repairs have been effected at various times, but the structure is now in such a state that to make further large expenditures would be impractical.

The cornerstone and records of the building will be removed to Illinois College.

The decision to have the building wrecked was reached by the board of trustees of Illinois College, after they had communicated with many alumni of the academy. While a number of graduates expressed hope that the building could be preserved for its historical value, no plan was available.

The Conservatory of Music, which has maintained studios in Academy hall, has leased several rooms in the C. A. Young residence on West State street, which will be used as the west side studio.

No plans have been made to use the lot for any purpose as yet.

The building has been condemned as unsafe for a number of years.

Rich in Traditions

With the razing of the hall, many descendants of those pioneers as well as the graduates recall the interesting history and splendid characters connected with the founding of that institution of learning, which it is well to note was the first seminary for women in the State of Illinois.

Previous to the organization, the land on which the building was erected was given by Dr. Ero Chandler to Rev. John M. Ellis and was forever consecrated for the sacred purpose of female education. It is still more interesting to note that in all the vast territory covered by the ordinances of 1787, excepting only that of Ohio, this is the earliest seminary having exclusive reference to the education of women.

The origin of this sister institution to Illinois College was through the inspiration and tireless efforts of the same Christian man, the pioneer Rev. John M. Ellis, who with his wife worked unceasingly for its growth.

Established in 1830

The seminary was established in 1830 and chartered by the legislature in 1835. The population at this time had increased to 446. Families looking to the best advantages for their children in mental and moral training came in larger numbers from the east and south and the pioneer city was becoming a nucleus for learning in the state.

This gift of Dr. Chandler's is the fine block on which the academy now stands. This ground then was of small value, being some distance from the center of business and surrounded by fields, which were used for farming. Here grew tall corn, here cattle grazed and not a tree was in sight as one looked west nearer than Wilson's grove.

The history of the academy speaks for itself. Its growth was constant. Over 3,000 had graduated at the time of the semi-centennial in 1880. Dr. Glover's report told of the liberal gift of $150 by Dr. Chandler and other amounts which gave the necessary funds for the first building. It was not until 1843 that the original plan was carried out. Various changes have taken place. The columns (north side) and the east wing are much the same.

Women Raised Funds
The trustees having been elected in 1831 commenced building the east wing. Lacking funds they were raising a one story building when a delay of twelve hours was asked by a lady with a proposal for a second story when she received the amount of $400, which was pledged by the Ladies Sewing society. A second contract was made and the whole amount paid for a second story by the ladies with donations.

"We never forgot the feeling of desolation, as we approached the Academy. It was standing solitary and alone with only one house between it and Illinois College, a mile to the west. We were home sick and sad. Our chairs and tables were broken, our mirrors were crushed, our piano broken. The style of women's dresses was peculiar—six yards of calico was ample for a dress and the sun-bonnet prevailed.

"Female education agitated the public. However we persevered with the teaching of the sciences, taught art and music. There were six pianos in the little town. Dr. Beecher, president of Illinois College brought the first to the community. The one used at the Academy was rented from London. The first music teacher was from Philadelphia. My sister gave lessons in art. The first gramophone which was brought to the city was in the basement window of the Academy and the first calla lily was brought by J. O. King, a trustee."

The following held the position of principal: Miss Sara Crocker, Miss Emily Price, John Adams, Rev. Williams, Miss Lucetta Kimball, Miss Elizabeth Mead, Rev. Charles G. Selbeck, Mrs. Phebe Thompson, Hon. Newton Bateman, Mrs. H. P. Murdock, Benjamin Mitchell, Gilbert Thayer, E. F. Bullard, Rev. John M. Gillett.

"Multitudes have enjoyed its advantages of culture and its beneficent fruits are widely scattered, as the mother institution of the great north-west."

Merges With College

On January 1, 1903, the Jacksonville Female Academy merged with Illinois College changing the even routine and policy of the old institution. When the merger was contemplated, co-education became a spirited controversy and the class of '03 wishing to graduate that June from the Academy with its time honored traditions resented the closing of the school in January. Amidst much agitation of students, parents and faculty a class day was presented depicting the Academy as dead and a "Mark Anthony" oration served as a tragic rebuff to the trustees. Following this, parents sought legal advice and with the aid of the late Judge C. A. Barnes diplomas were awarded, although the Academy had become a part of a co-educational college—(Illinois College)—in January of that year.

After this the Jacksonville Female Academy alumnae became affiliated with Illinois College (in 1904) and although the last class resented the merger, several later enrolled as students and their daughters have graduated from the college.

Hog Prices Are 25 Cents Lower

Chicago, Sept. 16.—(P)—The decline of hog values continued without interruption today as prices dropped in some cases 25 cents.

Buyers were still in a bearish mood despite substantial discount in prices so far this week and despite cooler weather that promised a better demand for dressed pork. Failure of an early revival in demand for pork to materialize left the market with little bullish incentive, however.

The market closed with a weak to 25 cents lower undertone, while some loss in late dealings was $10.75, more than $1 below the 1936 peak established only a few weeks ago. A few small lots sold for $10.80. Wholesale pork loin quotations showed no change.

Light cattle ruled higher as a result of a shortage of well finished light steers and heifers. Yearlings sold on a firm to higher basis while light heifer and mixed offerings ruled 15 to 25 cents higher in the face of an acute scarcity of offerings scaling 600 lb. downward. With the supply of well finished steers liberal, medium weights and weights kind were fully steady and closed weak. Some Nebraska fed Angus steers brought the $10.35 top, equalling the 1936 peak. The heifer top also was at the year's high of $10. Vealers closed $1 lower at $10 down, top being $10.50 for a few.

There was little change in the sheep and lamb price basis. Natives topped at $9.50. Wet fleeces caused buyers to move slowly.

Stock Values

Move Downward

New York, Sept. 16.—(P)—Prodigious increases in offerings in late trading, the stock market took another step on the downward path today.

A slow decline was stretched for the fifth consecutive session after a lift in aviation shares failed to stir the market generally into a rally. Losses ranged from fractions to more than 2 points.

Brokers said sentiment in trading circles had been adversely influenced by the ragged retreat since the market early in the month exhibited difficulty trying to scale tops established earlier this summer.

The speculative spotlight shifted back to business trends from political discussions evoked by Maine election results. Steel reports and weekly electric power production figures were taken as indication that industry was holding its ground well. But some analysts contended there was not as much vigor as might be expected for early autumn.

Steel, Motor, Electrical supply and other issues favored on the recent expansion of heavy industry bore the brunt of selling. Liquidation was sporadic, however. Transactions totaled 1,042,412 shares against 1,280,990 on Tuesday.

United States steel retraced ground won on a rally the day before and finished down 2 at 70. Westinghouse lost 2 1/2 points, closing at 138. Western Union was off 2 1/2 at 87. Chrysler added 1 1/2 to previous losses and ended at 111 1/2, down more than 13 points from the year's peak. J. I. Case, in relatively thin trading, yielded 3 points to finish at 149.

Farm and Rural Interest

Warehouse Grain Loans Will Be Made to Morgan County Farmers; Scott County Drought Relief Program Begins Friday; Cattle Congress in Iowa

Warehouse grain loans on the 1936 crop of oats, rye, barley and wheat will be made by the Jacksonville Production Credit Association, it has been announced by M. M. Want, secretary-treasurer. Such loans will be on grain sealed in farm storage bins that comply with the requirements for such storage facilities as defined in the respective state farm storage acts.

Similar loans proved a big advantage to farmers last season in conserving feed supplies and while fewer applications are expected this fall, the loans are provided for as a measure to assist farmers and livestock men.

The loans will bear the same rate of interest as loans for crop and live stock production, feed, seed, fertilizer, machinery, improvements and general farm expenses. Maturity dates on warehouse loans will conform to the normal marketing program of the individual farmer. No arbitrary loan limits have been or will be set. Mr. Want said, the amount loanable being based on the applicant's requirements and repayment plan.

Scott County Drought Relief Work To Begin

Scott county has been designated by the United States department of agriculture as an emergency drought county and placed on the emergency drought area list. This action by the federal government will make drought relief available to the farmers of Scott county. A drought relief clerk will receive applications at the Scott county farm bureau office at Winchester from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. for a period of 30 days, beginning Friday of this week.

These applications will be investigated and referred to the local committee. It is estimated that a week will be required for passing on the applications. Applicants who are approved will be put to work on some county project and permitted to continue their farming operations.

The purpose of the drought assistance is to make it possible for farmers, who have been hardest hit by the drought, to continue their farming operations and to avert a forced sale of livestock and farm machinery. Only persons actually engaged in farming as farm owners or tenants are eligible for assistance. Farm laborers are not eligible under the program. Farmers receiving grants from the rural resettlement administration will continue to receive aid from that agency.

Franklin Got Little Rain Last Two Days

Don Ransdall, Franklin while in the city yesterday said his community was less fortunate this week in the matter of rains than some other parts of the county. While Jacksonville received a drenching rain Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Chicago Wheat Prices Soar

Chicago, Sept. 16.—(P)—Soaring anew everywhere today, wheat prices both at Liverpool and Winnipeg outdid Chicago, responsive to activity of European breadstuff demand.

The Liverpool wheat market rose to the highest level reached since 1930, and Winnipeg quotations shot upward at one time more than 3 cents a bushel. Export purchases of Canadian wheat today were estimated as in excess of 1,500,000 bushels, on top of about 2,250,000 bushels taken yesterday and in addition to fair sales of United States Pacific coast wheat to England and Ireland.

It was contended that were it not for difficulty in obtaining vessel-space, Pacific Coast wheat export business from the United States would be much larger, as United States prices west are on a full export basis.

Wheat in Chicago jumped 2 1/2 cents maximum, but reacting somewhat at the last closed nervous, 1-1/2 above yesterday's finish, Sept. 11th, Dec. 112 1/2-1, May 111 1/2-1, corn unchanged to 1 1/2 higher, Sept. 11th, Dec. 95 1/2-1, oats 1-1/2 advanced, Dec. 42 1/2, and rye unchanged to 1 up, Dec. 81 1/2. In provisions, the outcome was unchanged to 7 cents dearer.

Broadened trade volume as well as advancing prices characterized the Chicago wheat market. A particular stimulus was an estimate that Italy's 1936 wheat crop is around 70,000,000 bushels less than last year's total. Tending further to arouse bullish sentiment were dispatches saying Europe as a whole will need to import much wheat from overseas owing to damaged condition of most of this season's harvest in Europe, and that Canada is about the sole remaining export country with a large quantity of good wheat to offer.

TRANS-PACIFIC FLIGHT

BEGIN HERE TODAY

KAY DUNN, pretty young nurse, applies for a job as stewardess on Overland Airways. In the Overland office she encounters TED GRAHAM, veteran pilot, who flies the trans-Pacific route. Largely due to Graham's intervention she is accepted for a trial period.

Two other girls, DORIS LEE and ALICE MILLER, are accepted on the same basis.

The three girls begin their preliminary training. Doris is first to win a regular job. Alice surprises the others by announcing her marriage to Chuck Jones, a pilot.

Kay is assigned to the western division, flying from Reno to San Francisco. She enjoys her work, but one evening, lonely and discouraged, she goes to a night club where she meets MONTE BLAINE, a pilot who tells her he is going to fly the trans-Pacific route with Graham.

Blaine has been drinking. He falls asleep in the living room of Kay's apartment. She lets him stay, locking the door of her bedroom.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VII

KAY saw to it that Monte Blaine caught the afternoon plane for Oakland. She was on duty on this ship. Monte sat back in his passenger's seat, watching her idly and grinning when she passed him in the aisle. Once she saw him grimace with pain, and clutch his head. She came to him unsilently. "Will you have another bromo-seltzer, sir? Perhaps it would help your head?"

She came back again when they passed over the American river canyon, a gigantic black yaw in the earth. She wanted to show him the two forks of the river, like tiny silver threads weaving in and out in the black depths. But Monte was sound asleep in his chair.

He slept all the way to Oakland Airport. When he woke up Kay had his arm, and was shaking him.

"This is Oakland, sir!" she said. "You change here for the trans-Pacific flight."

She saw him talking to the pilot, and a moment later he was back. "At last I know your name! I'll be waiting in a taxicab outside the terminal in 10 minutes, Kay Dunn."

Twenty minutes later she came out of the airport terminal, and there he was, sitting in the taxicab. He opened the door for her, and helped her in.

"You're not going to walk out of my life, Kay. Now what shall we do? Dine first or go watch the Flying Mariner come in? She's due at 6 o'clock, and it's 5:45."

KAY's heart skipped a beat. The Flying Mariner was Ted Graham's ship.

She said, breathless, "Let's watch the Mariner come in."

They stood on the landing docks at Ship Harbor and watched the blood-red sun sink into the Golden Gate of the bay.

The dying rays of the sun fell across the gigantic cables of the new bridge, longest in the world. A squadron of leviathans, battleships, was anchored under the bridge.

They saw the Mariner, winging her way across the Golden Gate, the sun rays glinting on metallic hull and wings. It was, to Kay, a sight both fantastic and unreal. This plane, in the space of five days, had dipped into the China Seas, into Manila Bay, into the tiny coral lagoons that dotted the mid-Pacific ocean, into the bay at Honolulu, and was now coming to rest in San Francisco bay.

new comers among the faculty, for there are four new teachers and a bride to welcome this year. Russell Davis of the high school was married during the vacation and the new teachers are Miss Harmon in the high school, Celah Conlee, Regina Black and Marden White.

There were 32 people present, and they included Superintendent and Mrs. L. E. Starke and daughter, Patty, principal of the high school, and Mrs. W. A. Knopp, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Davis, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Bierman, Miss Harmon, Isabel Rinaker, Helen Barclay, Margaret Parker, Uarta Hubbard, and Marden White. Those from the grades were Principal, Miss Edith Hyatt; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bowman, Celah Conlee, Lena Gibler of the Junior high and, Regina Black, Irene Livingstone, Mary Callans, Mae Nichols, Nelle Gibler, Eva Marsh, Naomi Hudson, Elsie Mae Kinser, Mary Evans, Sylvia Painter, Virginia Vedder, and Nellie Steelman. ## Plans To Tear Down Academy Hall Draws Attention To History

Merger With Illinois College In 1903 Attracts Interest

Announcement of the decision to tear the building known in this city for a number of years as "Academy Hall" has created interest concerning the history of the Jacksonville Female Academy, its founders, and the subsequent merger with Illinois College. The latter action, coming in 1903 and officially consummated January 1, 1903, was symbolic of the life work of John Millot Ellis and his wife Frances Celeste Brard Ellis.

Dr. Charles Henry Rammelkamp, late president of Illinois College, says in his "Centennial History" that John M. Ellis started the movement that led to the founding of the college, and the Jacksonville Female Academy owed a great deal of its origin to Mrs. Ellis, who opened a girls' school in her own home.

The east wing of the present building was erected in 1835 after instruction had been carried on for two years in rented quarters approximately on the site of the old Journal offices on West State street.

For modern purposes, the history of the building may be divided roughly into three parts. The first, of course, is the Jacksonville Female Academy, second school of higher education for women west of the Alleghenies. From 1803, year of the merger with Illinois, the three floors were used as a dormitory for L. C. women. It was the scene of many of Dr. and Mrs. Rammelkamp's famous "gumdrop parties," and it was in the library room that Sigma Phi Epsilon, society for women, held its first meeting Jan. 22, 1916. In the spring of 1933, what had then become Academy Hall was hostess to the last generation of co-eds. The college administration began furnishing modern homes adjacent to the campus as improved quarters. This action closed the official history of the Hall. Teachers of the conservatory of music continued to use a portion of the building, as in the past, and did so until the recent decision to abandon further attempts to heat and maintain the aged structure.

Another important chapter was written in Illinois College history at the time of the Academy merger. The period leading up to this date, 1802, was a critical time for the men's school. The decision of the trustees to consolidate with the Female Academy made the college co-educational and Presbyterian, largely responsible for securing a new endowment fund of $200,000. Fifty thousand dollars of this amount was immediately set aside for the purpose of "female education," to be refunded if at any time in the future the college ceased to be co-educational. The trustees assumed all obligations of the Academy, including a $20,000 mortgage on its property. The valuation of the Academy at that time was reported at $50,000. The Conservatory of Music also came into the merger.

An interesting note on the furnishings of the first classrooms of the Academy revealed that the bedsteads, tables and desks were made in the workshops of Illinois College. A receipted bill for this furniture was found later, amounting to $112.25, signed by Joel Catlin.

The additions to the building were made as follows:

1851-1857, term of Rev. Charles G. Selbeck, the school demanded more room, and another story was added to the main building, costing $2,600.

1865-1874, Prof. Gilbert Thayer in charge, front addition to the east wing, cost, $12,000.

1874-1901, term of Prof. E. F. Bulard. During this efficient administration the south wing was erected.

The semi-centennial celebration of the Academy was held in 1880, during the term of Prof. Bullard. The annual sermon was given by Rev. L. M. Glover, D. D., president of the Board of trustees, at the First Presbyterian church.

Two Evangelists, Farmer Are Killed In Crossing Mishap

Small Truck Is Hit by Train On Wabash Railroad In Pike County

Barry, Ill., Sept. 16.—A farmer and two evangelists, who had been conducting services near Perry, Ill., were killed here this afternoon when the small truck in which they were riding was struck by a fast Wabash railroad freight train at a grade crossing in the north part of town.

They are, Ralph Doane, a farmer living near Perry, Ill., driver of the truck, Miss Harriet McGowan and Miss Edith Allingham, evangelists, whose homes are believed to be in Ireland.

Witnesses to the accident said that a local freight train was switching in the yards and that Doane was apparently watching this train and did not see the fast freight speeding down the tracks. It appeared that when Doane did see the approaching train he either applied his brakes or killed his engine.

The freight train struck the truck squarely, tossing the bodies a distance of 150 feet. The truck was carried about 300 feet down the track.

The freight train was west bound and was going down a steep grade at a high rate of speed.

It is said that the women have been conducting revival meetings near Perry.

The bodies were taken to a local mortuary where an inquest was held tonight.

Four Hundred Hear Denouncement Of New Deal Administration

Speaking before an audience of more than four hundred members of the Twentieth District Republican Women's club, at the New Dunlap hotel yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Bernice T. Van der Vries of Winnetka, denounced the huge expenditures of money made by the present administration, criticized the destruction of food in this country, charged that WPA workers were urged not to leave their work on projects for work in private industry, and urged the election of Gov. Alf M. Landon, whom she declared will conduct a sane and safe administration if elected.

Despite the inclement weather the large dining room at the hotel was inadequate to accommodate the hundreds who gathered for the meeting.

Mrs. Zola Donahoe, district chair woman of the club, presided during the meeting. Mrs. Donahoe presented County Chairman Harry T. Strawn, who in turn introduced Charles W. Hadley, candidate for attorney general, Harry C. Montgomery, candidate for congress from the 20th district; Hugh Green, candidate for representative. Mrs. Dorothy Alexander was also presented as chairman of the Morgan County Republican Women's organization. Chairmen of several counties in the Twentieth district were introduced at the meeting, which was followed by a tea.

Mr. Hadley, speaking briefly, said this campaign is a call for patriots and not a partisan fight. Americanism is on trial, he declared. "I am actuated in the campaign the same as the vast majority of women—hood and manhood that will bury the New Deal will go the planned economy and regimentation."

Enthusiasm in Cook.

The speaker admonished his listeners not to worry about Cook county, asserting that enthusiasm for the Republican ticket in that county was never greater. Mr. Hadley told of attending a recent meeting in Chicago when more than 10,000 workers attended. Chicago and downstate have the same ideas about this election and will rally as one man, he said.

Mr. Montgomery characterized this campaign as a battle between the New Dealers and Americans. He pointed to President Roosevelt as a dictator who rules not by force but by fear.

Representative Green spoke of the promises made by Roosevelt, promises he said had not been kept. Mr. Green said Roosevelt promised, before his election, to reduce the cost of government 25 per cent, but instead this cost has increased from 38 to 72 per cent. Governor Homer said he would reduce state governmental costs, said Mr. Green, but instead taxes have increased steadily.

Grant L. Hughes, finance officer for the Twentieth district, presented Mrs. Van der Vries, who is a member of the House of Representatives in the Illinois General Assembly. Mrs. Van der Vries is seeking re-election.

She expressed the opinion that Americans are tired of having their money spent on experiments, in dealing the huge expenditures made under the New Deal. Men employed on WPA projects were urged to remain on the projects, she charged, despite the fact that they had chances of taking employment in private industry.

Referring to the NRA which was killed by the Supreme Court she asserted the monthly payroll for this division remains at $800,000 despite the fact that the NRA is no longer in operation. Mrs. Van der Vries charged that the New Dealers have not given up the idea of controlled industry.

Food Is Destroyed.

She pointed to the destruction of food in this country when many people needed it, as proof of her charges of mismanagement made under the New Deal. The food was destroyed and now foodstuffs are being imported from foreign countries.

One of the most serious things that may be charged to the New Deal, she declared, is the attempt to curb free speech. She gave an illustration by telling of an incident in Iowa, where she said government representatives threatened to withhold federal grants if a certain business man spoke at a meeting in an Iowa city. Investigators have attended Rotary club and other meetings to find if the government was being criticized. If criticism was heard federal funds were withheld.

Mrs. Van der Vries declared that the New Deal is stirring up class hatred, basing her declaration upon statements made by the president, who she classified as a business man, as "Economic Royalists." The speaker then went on to show that millions of the people are stockholders in many business organizations and a large percent of them own their own homes and farms, and should not be arrayed as one class against another.

Referring to the constitution Mrs. Van der Vries stated that she expected to see the time when Constitution Day will be observed as other national holidays. She speculated as to how the President could take the oath to uphold the constitution in view of statements he has made concerning it.

The Republican party offers a real leader in Governor Landon, said the speaker. Mrs. Van der Vries attended college in Kansas at the same time Mr. Landon was a student and from personal observations at that time and since described him as a sane business man, who would resort to no experiments in government and who has had sufficient experience in governing the state of Kansas to equip him for the office of the president.

She stated that all of Governor Landon's friends are uniting to support him, while many of President Roosevelt's friends have left him, in contrasting the two candidates.

LOCAL SOFTBALL TEAM RETURNS FROM ST. LOUIS

Jacksonville's all star softball team returned to the city yesterday with a good hard-knock story. They were entered in the St. Louis "National" tournament and played against the Kroger team Tuesday night.

The Kroger outfit is rated as one of the best in the St. Louis area and was slated to beat Jacksonville easily. The score, 5-0 in their favor, might indicate a "pushover," but the actual play showed a different story.

The count was scoreless up to the fifth inning with Krogers at bat and two out. An easy grounder was hit to the infield. It was juggled just long enough for the St. Louis batsman to reach first. Two errors and a hit followed to produce five runs. There were no scores in the last two innings. Again, a Jacksonville batter smashed a hard wallop, good for a home run, but he was held up at third and died there as the side was retired.

So last night they were saying—if that easy grounder had been handled correctly, and if that runner had come in home, Jacksonville would have taken the first contest.
